LAFCO Okays Vista La Mesa Annexation

Conditions Imposed On Area

With the imposition of two conditions, the county's Local Agency Formation Commission Monday approved annexation of the Vista La Mesa area to the city of La Mesa.

Conditions imposed by the commission provide that La Mesa shall waive entitlement to the assets of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District, and that property owners now served by the Spring Valley Sanitation District shall remain liable for the current debt service obligations.

Appearing in opposition to the annexation was M. J. McReynolds Jr., representing the Lemon Grove Firefighters Association. He told the commission annexation would deprive the district of $20,000 in tax revenues, and that a portion of the district he works for would be detached.

La Mesa chamber official James Culver opposed the plan because, he said, it would put an additional tax burden on city taxpayers. He said the chamber had contacted the office of Rep. Clair Burgener, who said there would be no automatic increase in revenue sharing because of the annexation.

The plan calls for annexation of 422 acres bounded by University Avenue on the north, Highway 94 on the south, Highfield Avenue on the east and the San Diego city limits on the west. The area numbers over 4,000 residents.

LAFCO approval was the first in a series of steps necessary for the area to win annexation to La Mesa. Proponents of the plan must now file notice of intention to circulate petitions within the area. One-fourth of the registered voters must sign petitions in favor of the annexation.

The petitions then go to the La Mesa city council, which must hold a public hearing on the matter before setting a date for an election, sometime next year.

Some six per cent of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District would be affected. McReynolds said the 4.5 square mile district is an enclave, completely surrounded by other political entities and without growth potential.

Rain Gap Closes

The rainfall in the east county is slowly closing the gap between last year's wet season and this year's rather dry one.

The rain amounted to .10 and .02 inches December 1 and 2 respectively. The total now is 2.03. Last year on the same date the total was 4.18.

Rainfall seasons are from July 1 each year.

Christmas for Orphans

Sigma Delta Chi, the society of professional journalists, spends the year keeping the lines of communication open between you and newsmakers of the world.

Newspeople who make up the Society are a scrappy lot, and these scraps almost invariably involve your right to know.

But Saturday, newspeople in San Diego will put aside their daily chores and embark in a caravan for Mexicali where they administer to the needs of youngsters at the House of the Good Shepherd, a Catholic orphanage for girls.

There, 100-150 little waifs, 5-16 years old, live in the orphanage that has been made more liveable because of the efforts of journalists in San Diego County during the 12 years they have attended their favorite project—Operation Orphan.

The project was started by a handful of reporters who learned of the little girls' plight by accident. They investigated and gave help. A story was published and readers also offered to help. And they have every year since.

A plan was devised for the youngsters to get what they wated. Nuns at the orphanage write a half-dozen different letters in English on the orphanage school's blackboard.

Nuns explain to the children in Spanish what the letters say in English. Each girl copies the one which most nearly meets her needs. Then she adds her name, age, weight; foot, hip and bust size. The letters are sent to Sigma Delta Chi where they are fanned out to those who have requested them.

Packages are addressed to specific girls. The packages are delivered to various collection spots. Locally, the office of this newspaper is used.

Tomorrow, the packages will be loaded into a van and Saturday the van heads the procession which makes its way to the House of the Good Shepherd at Madera and G streets in Mexicali. A professional Santa Claus goes along to add to the spirit of Christmas giving.

Once there, the gifts are stacked in the auditorium at the orphange. They won't be touched again until Christmas morning. The girls sing, dance and take part in a holiday play for the visitors. A couple reporters go shopping for a Christmas tree—the largest they can find. The tree is set up in the auditorium, more singing, dancing and plays and a bite to eat with the nuns and the visit is over. There are many, many tears when visitors depart leaving the little ones with just a touch of what most youngsters in the U.S. have learned to take for granted—the warmth of sincere love and concern.

There's really more to it than that. During the first year Sigma Delta Chi members arranged to have windows put in the orphanage. It gets below freezing there. The next year brought a roofing project, followed by rewiring the facility. After the wiring came sewing machines. Sigma Delta Chi gathered 68 used ones. Most of them worked, too. Then immediately came the need for yardage. And now, it is clothes toys and goodies—just like gringo kids get.

In recent years some donors gave cash. That money is put in escrow with a dairy firm just across the border in Calexico. Nuns trek there from time-to-time for the milk for the youngsters. On special days they draw out ice cream.

It is a rewarding project and it comes to climax Saturday. Those who became involved are convinced that the project makes the holiday more meaningful.

Those who wish to participate Saturday are welcome to do so. Parents who take their youngsters to the affair report that the youngsters develop a stronger social consciousness as a result.

To those in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley who have participated this year or before, the people of the press say "Merry Christmas."

Beware the 50mph Limit

The motoring public isn't ready for a mandatory 50 miles-per-hour maximum speed limit.

And unless the attitude of most drivers changes when it is invoked, hot tempers will explode on America's freeways adding to the mayhem associated with drinking drivers.

Let's take a 50 miles-an-hour ride with this editor. It was the week-end after President Nixon urged a voluntory 50 miles an hour maximum. The trip was east on State 94 and 8 to El Cajon and return. Betwen College ave. and El Cajon the freeway is a three, two and a four lane thoroughfare, respectively.

Fifty miles an hour doesn't seem slow—until following cars start putting the pressure on. That came soon. A diesel powered truck pulling a long, low trailer closed the distance

No Christmas Lighting This Year, CoC Decides

There will not be a Christmas tree lighting contest in Lemon Grove this year, directors of the Chamber of Commerce decided at a meeting last week.

The chamber will go along with efforts to curb the use of energy during the nationwide crisis by dropping the contest this season, the directors agreed.

At the same time, Dr. Griffith Clark, who had been associate director at-large, was elected to a seat on the board. Dr. Clark has been with the San Diego Pet Hospital at 7086 Broadway for the past seven years, and in his own words, is a "third generation native Californian." He replaced Joe Davey, who has moved to Imperial Beach.

President Dell Lake told the meeting that a request for a controlled pedestrian crossing in the middle of Broadway had been denied, since the county is at present involved in trying to complete street improvements. However, he added, the crossing has not been completely foreclosed, since piping and conduit for a crossing sign were laid before paving was begun last week.

Bob Russell, who is circulating petitions in the area to gain property owner approval of landscaping after Broadway is repaved, told directors that county officials will plan to attend the next board session, bringing with them blueprints of landscaping improvements. The subject will be a matter for voter approval in April, Russell said.

Russell declined to report on the progress of Broadway street improvements, saying only "everything is going according to plan—the county's plan."

Ken Yarab, manager of Jack-in-the-Box, said his corporation, Foodmaker, plans to purchase five more trash containers for placement on Lemon Grove streets. They would supplement those already placed by the Lions Club.

Yarab said the containers will cost about $500, and will be securely fastened to prevent theft. Dave Harvey, representing Thomas and Son Disposal Company of Lemon Grove, said his firm will empty the trash on a regular basis.

At the request of Joe Nelson, chairman for the VFW Teen Age dances, the directors voted to support the functions with a $25 donation, payable quarterly as the budget permits. Nelson told the meeting the dances are held monthly, but the club will skip December. Next function is set for mid-January, he said, adding the dances are restricted to children 13 to 17 years of age, who are fed pizza and soft drinks through the cooperation of area merchants.

Finally, following a request the chamber be represented at meetings of the County Parks Advisory Committee, directors named Mrs. Helen Myers, office manager, to attend. The next parks committee session is scheduled for December 6.

County Allocates $48,000 To MV Hi

San Diego County Tuesday allocated $48,099 to the Grossmont Unified High School District towards completion of a swimming pool and an athletic complex at Monte Vista High School.

The board of supervisors approved the allocation after acceptance was voted by the Grossmont trustees at their November 19 meeting. The funds will help defray the costs of an aquatic center in the complex. The center's costs are about $193,000.

Two Caught In Miller Hay Fire

Two juveniles have been apprehended by the Sheriffs' Arson Detail for setting fire to a haystack October 19 at Miller's Dairy, 7935 Mt. Vernon ave., Lemon Grove.

The two, both from Lemon Grove, were caught through routine investigation, arson investigator Dean Browne said. The fire destroyed about half of the 100-ton stack. Hay is currently priced at $75 ton.

In another investigation, Browne said two juveniles were discovered to have set a gunpowder pipe bomb which exploded October 6, wrecking six lockers at Monte Vista High School.

Community Plans Set for Ad Board

Examination of the whole spectrum of community planning, which will involve both the Lemon Grove and Valley de Oro Planning Associations, will occupy members of San Diego County's Environmental Development Agency Advisory Board at its next meeting.

Bulletin!!

Dell Lake, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday that a meeting of Broadway merchants has been called for Tuesday Dec. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Golden Avenue school.

"We need to organize for any action that may result from the revamping of Broadway," he said.

Representatives from the County will attend to answer specific questions, Lake said.

Band Parents Need Help to Fill Bus

The Mt. Miguel Band Pantssounded a cry for help rents sounded a cry for help today.

It seems they have contracted for two busses to take spectators to the Rose Bowl Parade January 1, and still have 46 seats to fill before next Wednesday, December 12.

According to Mrs. Ann Hansell, reservations may still be made by calling her at 465-9654. Tickets cost $17.50 per person, which includes reserved bleacher seats for the parade. The bus will leave early New Year's morning, at a time to be announced later, and return late that same evening.

Grossmont Seeks Vans For Disabled

A funding request last week was coupled with a new approach to public relations, when two young people brought a slide show to this newspaper office to reveal a plan to provide Grossmont College's handicapped with two vans for transportation.

Marilyn Thurston, a senior at San Diego State, accompanied by John Schmidt, Grossmont counselor for the disabled, provided the slide show, accompanied by a 10-minute recorded pitch, in efforts to help raise about $16,000 needed for the purchase of the vans.

"We are not begging," Schmidt said, "but we would like to involve the community in this project. We are available to service clubs and other organizations to present the slide show to seek support for our project."

Miss Thurston, who ends her San Diego State education career this semester, plans to stay with the project until it is successfully completed.

The project is based on one recently introduced at State, whereby vans equipped with lift gates for wheel chairs pick up and deliver students between home and classroom.

"About 300 physically limited students attend Grossmont," Schmidt said, "and 50 of them desperately need the help the vans could provide."

The project has been named Students Limited and operates under the Grossmont College Development Foundation. Contributions, which are tax deductible, may be sent to 8800 Grossmont College dr., El Cajon, 92020. Any organization wishing to see the slide show should call Chuck Seymour, health service officer, at 465-1700, extension 294.

TREE TRIMMERS—After 21 years, the Business Women's League of Lemon Grove has gone out of the tree trimming business, and Mrs. Al Huebsch (right) hands a candy cane to Cindy Quigley, of the club's junior membership. Traditionally, since the tree was planted in 1952 on the north plaza, the League has provided decorations, lights and trimming. The League's annual Christmas party will be held Sunday, beginning with a 4 p.m. social hour, at Leewood Trailer Court.

United Way Drive Short, But Mop-Up Victory Seen

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley United Way campaigns are still somewhat short of their 1973 goals but with the local mop-up this week and next, victories are in sight.

Lemon Grove reported $8,500 or 76% of its $11,190 goal at the final report meeting at El Cortez Hotel. According to local United Way chairman Charles L. Foster, "We are only $1,000 short of exceeding the amount raised last year in Lemon Grove and 24% away from the '73 goal. All volunteers are being asked to make all remaining contacts on their lists and gifts can also be turned into me at San Diego Trust & Savings Bank, 7155 Broadway".

Spring Valley reported $2,606 or 77% of its $3,375 goal. This amount to date is $101 over the total raised during last year's campaign. Anyone in Spring Valley who has not been contacted and wishes to make a contribution can either take it in person to Mrs. Naomi Marshall at the Chamber of Commerce office or mail to East County United Way, P.O. Box 1128, El Cajon 92022. Lemon Grove residents may also mail to the El Cajon box number.

Trash Truck Fuel Supplies Cut 25 Per Cent

A slash of 25 per cent in delivery of gasoline and propane to fuel the nine vehicles serving Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will not mean curtailment of trash disposal service, Dave Harvey, customer relations man for Thomas and Son, said last week.

Harvey revealed that suppliers, because of the shortage of energy fuels, had cut deliveries for December by one-fourth, but had made no further slashes in future deliveries as yet.

Because of the cutback, drivers have been ordered to cut idling and warm-up time and to drive at less than 50 miles per hour. Drivers have also been ordered to stop the engine which packs and ejects the load while running to and from the dump.

Thomas and Son's office in Lemon Grove was vacated about the first of last month, Harvey said, and personnel were moved to La Mesa, to "consolidate the work force."

It's Official: 45 Per Cent Cast Their Votes

Official results of the November elections, released last week by San Diego County Registrar of Voters Charles Sexton revealed that 45.2 per cent of the voters in the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District cast their ballots.

Yule Time: Beware of Prowlers, Says Sheriff

By Win Bowles

Christmas is a time of gladness and gift giving, of joy and warmth—but, warns Lt. Ken Wigginton of the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station, it is also a time when burglars prowl the streets day and night, seeking to ripoff the unwary.

Wigginton outlined several precautions homeowners can take to prevent their homes being burglarized, either during daylight hours or in the dead of night.

First and most important, he emphasized, is to know your neighborhood.

"It isn't necessary that you be close friends with everyone in your block," he said, "but know who lives around you so that you can identify strangers who might possibly be seeking an easy mark."

Wigginton urged cooperation between neighbors to the extent that each resident of an area be on the alert for strange cars parked longer than necessary on conventional business.

"I don't mean that everyone should be suspicious of the local Fuller Brush man," he said, "but if a householder believes something is wrong, he should make a note of the automobiles license number, and call our office at 236-3113.

Daylight thefts are on the increase, Wigginton noted, especially during this season, while residents are at work or shopping. One such theft occurred last week in the Mt. Helix area, when about $4,500 worth of jewelry was lost while the woman of the house was on a shopping expedition.

More cooperation between neighbors should help decrease the number of burglaries, reported in 1972 at 503 in this area. Roughly, that figures out to two every three days.

Tempting morsels for the would-be thief include Christmas gifts stacked under the tree in the front room and easily visible through a picture window, Wigginton said. Other loot which attracts a burglar include television sets, stereo players, tape recorders and small appliances such as calculators.

"If the owner of these items will keep a list of them by brand name and serial number, our job of recovery is made much easier in the event of a burglary," the lieutenant commented. If stolen items turn up, they are run through a computer, and if identification is on record, may more easily be returned to the owner, he added.

If you plan to be gone for a day, ask your neighbor to watch your house, he said. If you plan to be gone for a week or more, stop the newspaper and milk deliveries, have your mail held by a friend or neighbor, and arrange to have your lawn mowed, Wigginton advised.

"Milk and paper stacked up, a crammed mailbox and an unkempt lawn are invitations to potential burglars," he said.

A final precaution—on leaving the house, be sure all doors and windows are securely locked. If necessary, invest in locks for sliding glass doors to prevent easy jimmying, Wigginton concluded.

OOPS! — Workmen tear up Broadway almost immediately after paving was completed. A foreman explained that the work was necessary because a concrete shoulder had been laid too high and it was necessary to lower it so that rain water could drain off. Broadway merchants are complaining about access to parking in front of their stores, now that the county has finished (almost) work on Lemon Grove's main thoroughfare.

Toys For Tots Opens Campaign

The annual Toys for Tots drive, sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve, kicked off last week at Sea World's main gate at 10 a.m.

Each year the Marine Corps Reserve in San Diego collects thousands of toys for children who otherwise would not have anything under the tree on Christmas morning.

Toy donations may be made before Dec. 23 at fire stations, both civilian and military, throughout San Diego County, and at Sea World.

Used but repairable toys should be donated early, Sgt. Miller stressed, to allow time for minor repairs.

Children under 12 who are accompanied by an adult will receive free admittance to Sea World between Nov. 26 and Dec. 23, if they bring a toy to donate to Toys for Tots. Collection barrels will be placed beside the Sea World main gate.

Special arrangements for toy donation pickup may be made by contacting the 4th Tank Battalion Headquarters, Marine Corps Reserve, at Miramar Naval Air Station.

Church or welfare groups in need of toys to distribute during the holiday season may contact Sgt. Miller at 277-5635.

Girl Scout Ecology Drive Opens Strong

Tons of newspapers and thousands of glass bottles and aluminum cans have been turned in by Girl Scouts of the San Diego-Imperial Council in a continuing 1973 ecology program, it has been announced.

On November 17, over 250 troops turned in 34,000 glass containers, 170,000 smashed aluminum cans and 115 tons of newspapers. Special recognition will be given next spring to troops turning in the largest amounts.

Spring Valley and Lemon Grove residents desiring to contribute may contact Mrs. Charlotte Spahn, telephone 463-0932, or any Girl Scout Troop. Arrangements will be made for pickup.

Stamps By Mail Available At LG Postoffice

With the Christmas mailing rush drawing near, Lemon Grove Postmaster Nate Hale today reminded customers that they may purchase their postage stamps by mail.

Earlier Christmas mailing is anticipated through use of the U. S. Postal Service's Stamps by Mail program, Hale said.

Last year saw a sharp upswing in orders for the category of 100 eight-cent stamps, one of five assortments offered during the pre-Christmas period, Hale said.

Stamps by Mail order forms, which include self-addressed return envelopes, are available from post offices.

Customers pay no postage to send in their stamp orders or to receive the stamps. A small service charge covers the cost of the two-way postage and guarantees the customer against loss in transit.

Customers check off the order or orders they wish—categories range from $1.85 to $8.40—then enclose their personal check, mail the order envelope and receive their stamps by mail from the post office.

In addition to the five-part "Discovery", Pastor Orval C. Butcher, who will be featured soloist, will lead the audience in joining the chorale in a program of traditional Christmas music.

WORLD PREMIERE — Four ballets will be premiered by the San Diego Ballet Company during its Holiday Dance Festival scheduled December 15 and 16, and December 28 and 29. The program will begin at 7 p.m. with presentation of the colors, following which the girls, with colored flashlights, will form a living Christmas tree, as the lights of the stadium are turned off.

The girls will sing favorite carols. The public is invited to attend, and asked to contribute a can of food as the price of admission. The food will be distributed to needy Heartland families through the Crisis House.

3 Local Men Win Sheriff's Shields

Three Lemon Grove residents were graduated from the Sheriff's Academy last week after completing 18 weeks of what is considered one of the toughest law enforcement schools in the nation.

They are Deputy Sheriffs Ronald H. Morse, Paul E. Tibbetts, and El Cajon policeman Jon A. Rose.

They were among 35 students who received 683 hours of study and 18 college units from the academy at Miramar College. Their studies included peace officer orientation, patrol procedures, traffic control, criminal law, community relations, self defense, weaponry, first aid and rescue, and Spanish.

Students included not only Deputy Sheriffs and El Cajon policemen, but also policemen from the cities of Escondido, National City, Oceanside, the District Attorney's office, and the Marine Corps.

Deputies Morse and Tibbetts have been assigned duties in the County jail.

Parade of Lights Show Cancelled

Mission Bay's fourth annual Christmas Boat Parade of Lights has been cancelled because of the fuel and power squeeze, chairman Bill Seaton confirmed today.

"With the shortage of petroleum and an impending energy crisis, we felt it would be inappropriate to stage the parade," he declared.

Copernicus Display Free at Space Theatre

SAN DIEGO — The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center is celebrating the 500th anniversary of the scientist who "stopped the sun and moved the earth" in a major exhibit hall display.

The life of Polish astronomer Nicholaus Copernicus (1473-1543) is being featured through Jan. 20 in a duplicate of the official exhibit at Warsaw's Museum of Technology honoring the quinncentenary of the scientist's birth.

Copernicus is most widely known for first establishing the heliocentric concept, or the fact that the earth revolves around the sun. Prior to his studies, scholars believed the universe revolved around a stationary earth.

Containing more than 100 pieces, the display featuring working facsimiles of planetary models employed by Copernicus, navigational equipment of his era and a sphere depicting the zodiac.

In addition, a reproduction of "De revolutionibus," the scientist's dissertation of the theories covering the circular motion of planets around the sun, is on view.

An eleven-minute color motion picture on Copernicus is also being shown free during the run of the special science center exhibit. "Copernicus" is screened in the space theater throughout the week and in the facility lecture hall on weekends.

The wrap-around, domed space theater is currently featuring "Capture the Sun," an exploration of solar studies throughout the ages, and the American southwest "Standing Up Country" 70mm, fish-eye motion picture.

The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center is located at the eastern end of Balboa Park, south of the San Diego Zoo and north of Naval Hospital. Free parking is provided off Park Blvd.

'Y' Schedules Christmas Camps

Boys and girls from ages 8 to 12 can register now for Christmas camps to be conducted by the YMCA at Camp Surf, Imperial Beach, or Camp Marston at Julian.

A fee of $50 for Camp Surf includes meals and all expenses. The children can attend from December 27 to January 1, enjoying surfing, sailing, fishing trips, cookouts, beach exploration and camp activities.

At Camp Marston, a fee of $24 covers a three-day period from December 28 to 30, and includes nature walks, hikes, handicrafts, cabin fun and snow, if the weatherman cooperates.

Registrations are being accepted at all Y offices, including Heartland.

Library Sets Shadow Plays

The shadow plays, "Mousekin's Christmas Eve", "Where's Pranier?" and "How Piglet Crashed the Christmas Party", can be seen at the Casa de Oro Library on Wednesday, December 12, 3:30 p.m.

Jocelyn Evernham will present these stories in the unique manner of projecting the action of the characters on a white screen to create shadows.

These free Christmas plays will provide for children of all ages a very enjoyable and delightful afternoon. For further information contact the library at 9628 Campo rd., phone: 463-3236.

New Welfare Income Reporting System Set

The newly-announced monthly income reporting system for California welfare families will be in use in all counties soon after January 1, State Welfare Director David B. Swoap has announced.

"The system will require welfare recipients to report income and other basic eligibility information once a month on a new, one-page form," Swoap said. "The present form will still be used when a person first applies for welfare," Swoap emphasized, "and the annual eligibility check-up will still require the older form."

Swoap said mothly reporting will make it much easier and faster to prevent overpayment errors sometimes caused by lack of up-to-date income information. Estimates are that these errors cost the state $44 million a year.

Amateur entertainers, either individuals or groups, are being invited to appear before audiences at Riverside County's National Date Festival, which will be held Feb. 15 through 24, at Indio.

Natural History Museum Plans Naturalist Films

A film series will be presented at the Natural History Museum each weekend this month which features movies of interest to the naturalist.

Showing Saturday and Sunday of December 8 and 9 is a film on the ecological succession on lava flows picturing the appearance of the first blue-green algae life forms and subsequent growth.

Also included are pictorial sequences of volcanic eruption and build-up and shots of the eruption of Kilauea, the Hawaiian volcano, in 1969. On the same program is a 7 minute color film titled "Dunes" which follows the contours of desert sand dunes and the paths of desert animals and insects.

On December 15 and 16, "Tropical Rainforest" will be shown illustrating relationships between a variety of plant and animal life in the tropics. Also shown will be "Ant World", which depicts ant's practices of slavery, war, agriculture and livestock maintenance and contrasts them with similar human activities.

December 22 and 23's program features a film on the inter tidal zone along the Monterey coast titled "Seashore Oddities" and on December 29 and 30 "Skyline Hike Over Muir Trail' will be shown which follows the crest of the Sierra Nevada from Yosemite Valley to the top of Mt. Whitney.

These films will be shown at 3 on Saturday and at 1:30 and at 3 on Sunday. Program is open to the public. There is no charge.

The county Board of Supervisors has announced that veterans and dependents are being offered a new expanded service in the La Mesa-El Cajon vicinity which began recently. The service is intended to bring more assistance to veterans, dependents, and survivors in making claims for the many benefits to which they may be entitled.

David A. Leslie, director of the San Diego County Veterans Service Department, announced that future counseling service will be available at the Veterans Memorial Building, 136 North Chambers, El Cajon, two days a week on Monday and Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Service in La Mesa has been changed to Thursday morning. A representative of the county veterans service department will be at the American Legion Post No. 282, 8118 University from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Leslie also announced that through house calls every effort will be made to contact hospitalized and housebound veterans in the east suburban areas who have serious problems with their veterans benefits and are unable to visit the county offices. The service is all a part of the department's outreach program, Leslie added. The telephone number of the downtown San Diego office is 236-2223.

The department urges veterans and widows of all wars to contact any of their offices in order to find out what their benefits are. Viet Nam veterans should make maximum use of their educational benefits.

Toll Free Calls Set For Health Walk Saturday

Alcoholism Council of California, National Council on Alcoholism, has announced that Pacific Telephone has completed the installation of a statewide toll-free network to answer calls generated by Saturday's Walk for Health.

Other toll-free lines are being installed for questions and referrals on three additional family illnesses targeted for the "Strike Day" awareness effort.

According to John Pixley, ACC executive director, it will be the nation's first statewide toll-free alcoholism line, with the capability of receiving thousands of toll-free calls each month.

State Department of Health employees will confidentially answer calls to another toll-free number concerning the availability of local treatment for venereal disease, drug abuse and dental disease.

"Strike Day" is the largest health information effort ever undertaken in the West. On Saturday there will be a statewide mobilization of concerned citizens, some 30,000-50,000 strong from local service clubs, church groups, and other organizations such as PTA concerned with the epidemic spread of alcoholism, drug abuse, venereal disease

Dies In Jet Crash

A Spring Valley man, 2d Lt. Michael J. Dypvik, 25, was killed last week in the crash of his Air Force jet trainer near Gail, Texas.

The Air Force said Dypvik, a student pilot, together with Capt. Scene of the wreck was about 55 miles north of Webb Air Force Base, Big Springs, Texas.

Dypvik's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo H. Dypvik, reside at 3048 So. Bonita, Spring Valley. His widow, Margaret, lives in Texas.

John B. Simms Dies

Simms had been to his doctor the day before, and apparently died of natural causes sometime during the morning hours of December 2, the report added.

Freitas, Aztecs Close Grid Season in Blaze of Glory

Jesse Freitas put the finishing touches on a brilliant career at San Diego State U. Saturday night, leading the Aztecs to a 41-28 win over Iowa State in a game billed as the Carnation Bowl in San Diego.

The game, which took on the aspect of San Diego State's formal protest at not being picked for a major bowl game, was one of the most exciting played by the Aztecs in recent years. San Diego State, a seven point underdog, jumped out to a 28-0 lead in the second quarter only to have Iowa State cut that lead to 35-28 with 6:45 to play in the game.

Freitas took charge at that point, however, hitting Keith Denson with a 26 yard touchdown pass to put the game out of reach at 41-28.

Freitas finished the year as the nation's top passer with an average 20.6 completions and also ended No. 1 in total offense with an average of 263.7 yards per game. He finished the season with 227 completions on 347 attempts for 2993 yards and 21 TD's. His passing percentage was .654, the best in the country. For his career at San Digo State, Freitas hit 324 of 518 passes for 4193 yards, 28 TD's and a percentage of .625.

Saturday, Freitas hit 19 of 28 for 303 yards and three scores and scored himself on a 10 yard run.

The win left the Aztecs with a 9-1-1 mark for the season while Iowa State ended 4-7. The Aztecs won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association title for the second straight year and own a 19-2-1 mark over the last two seasons.

"This game was a fitting end to a tremendous season for Jesse Freitas," said Aztec coach Claude Gilbert. "It has been a tremendous privilege to coach him and to associate with him. He is as good a college passer as I've seen. I just wish that he would receive the recognition that he deserves. Being left off the East-West Shrine team was a crime. I can't believe that the selection committee would leave Jesse off the team."

Tight end Darold Nogle had a big night with six catches for 83 yards and a 44-yard touchdown pass to Greg Moses. Moses caught five passes for 106 yards and two scores while Keith Denson had six grabs for 147 and a pair of TD's.

Running backs Bill Kramer and Frank Geary both performed well. Kramer had 122 yards on 17 carries and Geary 81 on 12.

Freitas is scheduled to play in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Alabama and in the American Classic at Miami, according to Coach Claude Gilbert.

The California Teachers Association (CTA) said it will seek to have schools included among agencies receiving "highest priority" for fuel and energy supplies in the event of cutbacks or rationing.

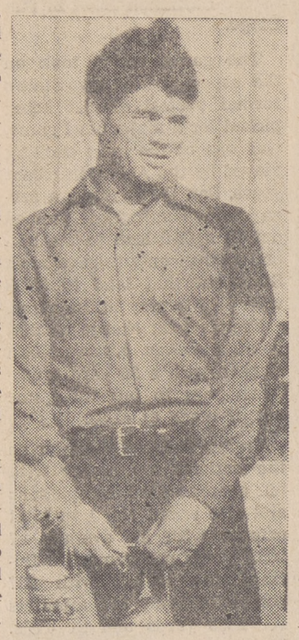
Amado Vasquez Comes Home For Coliseum Fight Friday

Mike Nixon, of Los Angeles, came from behind Friday and won a split decision over Jose Martin Flores, of San Diego in the main event at the Coliseum. There were no knockdowns and neither middleweight was in trouble during the 10-round match.

In a supporting 8-round lightweight card, Gregg Potter of Los Angeles won a technical decision after he was butted by Felix Jasso in the fourth round. Potter was ahead on points and by California ring rules, he was awarded the fight when the butt cut required medical treatment.

In a 6-round lightweight fight, Julio Lopez claimed a unanimous decision over Carlos Barragon. The 6-round featherweight opener went to Felix Garcia after he had Augustine Martinez on the floor twice in the third round.



Amado Vasquez

This Week's Card

Light heavyweight Amado Vasquez, of San Diego, fights on his own home ground for the first time in three years Friday when he takes on Terry Lee, of Oakland, in the main event at the Coliseum.

During 1970 Vasquez fought here seven times and lost only once. Since then he has traveled throughout the world to meet the top heavyweights. Two months ago Vasquez was in South Africa where he won a decision over Gerry Bodenstein in Capetown and lost to Dawie du Preez in Johannesburg.

A native of Mexico City, the 23-year-old Vasquez has been in against most of the rated light heavyweights, including Mike Quarry.

Lee held the California state light heavyweight title for three years after defeating Frank Niblett and then lost the championship in 1971 to Ray "Windmill" White.

Lee's record of 20 wins and 12 losses in a seven-year career, is similiar to that of Vasquez and he also fought some of the top men in his weight division.

Last year in Long Beach, Lee took a disputed decision over Vasquez. The win was unanimous with the officials but not with the fight fans. More recently, Lee later defeated Arizona state champion Lee Mitchell three weeks ago in Phoenix.

Cruz vs. Garcia

Friday's 10-round semimain, will feature Dommy Cruz (11-2) of San Diego versus Ricardo Garcia of Mexicali, in a featherweight contest. Formerly of Manila, Cruz has won over Valenta Vera, Johnny Watson and Jesus Robles. Garcia (20-5-3) was stopped by Art Hafey at the Coliseum.

Two preliminary bouts complete the Friday card starting at 8 p.m. Tickets are $7.50-$6.00-$5.00 and $3.00.

As an added attraction Friday, featherweight Hafey, now the number five in his division, will engage in an exhibition match.

Free Fights Saturday

Boxing fans are invited to see amateurs scrap Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum. Admission is free.

Fighters from Los Angeles, Brawley, Tijuana, Mexicali, Ensenada and from various points in Southern California will be on the card which starts at 4 p.m.

There will be 15-18 three-round, two-minute bouts with world title contenders Armando Muniz and Bobby Chacon as guest referees.

It will be the final presentation of the year of the Chicano Athletic Association's 1973 boxing show. The program is under the direction of Norman (Bumpy) Parra. The Coliseum is made available without charge by promoter Mickey Davies.

A Veterans Administration report indicates California, with 3.23 million veterans, maintained its position in fiscal year 1973 as the state with the most veterans.

Golf Tournament Winners Named

It was a cold, damp, Sunday morning, but more than 65 golfers turned out for Pal's Cafe's semi-annual golf tourney and video-tape critique Sunday at Carlton Oaks Country Club, according to Bob Taylor, cafe manager.

Winners were: Hulen Coker, Lemon Grove, $20, low gross; Charles Sones, $75, 1st., low net; Ed Maxey, $50, Spring Valley, 2nd., and Al Bahlen, $25, Chula Vista, 3rd.

Jean Murrell, of Lemon Grove, won $10 for "nearest to pin".

Following the tournament, players attended a dinner and a video-tape critique at the cafe at Imperial and Lester in Lemon Grove.

Helix High Conservation

Helix High School is taking steps to conserve energy on the campus.

"We feel that schools have an important part in conserving energy", Benton Hart, Helix principal said.

Drastic cuts in electricity have been made. During the school day, there are no lights in the hallways. Only two-thirds of the lights in the cafeteria are used.

"The gym, cafeteria, and classrooms are cleaned as soon as possible after school is out", Hart said. This will minimize the use of electricity, and night maintenance will be reduced.

The fuel sold to high school has also been cut back. The heaters run from 4 a.m. to 6 a.m. only so that there will be more fuel for the colder winter months.

During the night, there is only one light on in the library. There are two lights instead of four in the quad.

A two-hour, Wednesday night soccer class has been cut to fifty-five minutes and only half the stdium lights are in use.

During night classes only half of the lights are used. These have been cut from 150 watts to 75 watts. There is one light in the principal's office and one outside for security reasons.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

There is no better example of how completely upside down the sports' world is than Peter McNab.

It came to pass in his life that a trip from San Diego to Buffalo was a step up. An advancement. An accomplishment. Heaven help us.

That is the same old Buffalo where the streets are always torn up, snow lays heavy on the ground nine months of the year, usually well mixed with mud from the torn up streets and blended into that famous substance known to travelers everywhere as "slush."

Buffalo is the only city in the world that makes Philadelphia look good. And yet, Peter McNab and his cute, young wife Diana, think of Pete's call up to the Sabers as the second greatest thing that ever happened to them.

And perhaps, even in their youth, they may be right. Peter is the oldest son of the "Gentle Scot," Mac McNab (and, of course Mrs. McNab), the general manager of the San Diego Gulls.

Peter grew up in San Diego, played baseball and football at Point Loma High, and played them well enough to interest college football and professional baseball talent scouts.

But as young McNab was growing up to his 6-3, 210 pound size, he was growing smart in the thinking department and chose a hockey scholarship to Denver University.

Last year he was tempted away from school with a $70,000 bonus offer that included the right to return to school each summer at full pay until he completes his undergraduate work.

Pete and Diana, a Denver coed and part time ski coach, got married and headed off on a honeymoon that ended at Niagara Falls, where Pete joined the Sabers for pre-season training.

Although he set most of the hockey records at Denver in his three year collegiate career, Buffalo Hockey folks felt Peter needed more seasoning and sent him to their top farm club, Cincinnati.

The American Hockey League crowd is a pretty fast bunch and the idea was for Peter to be well tested by professional players. Besides, Buffalo wanted Peter on the ice, not sitting somewhere as the fourth center of a repair line. Nobody gets $70,000 to sit down.

Sooo, Peter went to Cincinnati and Buffalo got off to a fair start with it's famed "French Connection" line of Rick Martin and Renee Robert riding flank on Gill Perreault.

Peter's stick blazed through American Hockey like a hot knife through butter. He assaulted the AHL record book with 18 goals and 15 assists in just 19 games.

Every NHL team sent scouts to watch the Cincinnati's play, demanding and getting multi-page reports on the Sabers "Giant at the threshold."

The reports all said the same thing. "He's as good," they'd say, "as they say he is."

Then disaster struck Buffalo. Their number one centerman Gil Perreault, went into the boards and broke an ankle. The Sabers were 10 and 5 on the new NHL season, but with Perreault out, the Saber went dull.

The Buffalo's dropped five in a row. And a call for help went out. Petter reported to the Sabers and stepped in between the wings of their top line.

And he turned it around. Still feeling his way as the number one center of the top line of an NHL contending club, Peter's production is down. He has been credited with two assists in three games.

But, his play has been measured a considerable factor in the Sabers recent success. Pete reported during a five game losing streak, and the Sabers have won all thre games since he came. And Peter has centered every shift for his line.

Now, when he gets his feet firmly on the ice, and he feels a little more comfortable, he very well could make people in Buffalo happy all winter.

And when you consider what people in Buffalo have to contend with during an average winter, you can see what a truly remarkable hockey player Peter McNab is going to have to be.

But then, anybody who choses employment in a business that measures a move from San Diego to Buffalo as a promotion, must be right at home with the impossible. With someone like young McNab, only the totally unattainably and absurd takes time.

Mats CIF Grid Hopes Die On 28-24 San Marcos Loss

By Bill Ott, Jr.

VISTA—Any hopes the Mt. Miguel Matadors had of claiming the 1973 CIF Football Championship were dashed Saturday night when San Marcos rallied from a 24-14 halftime deficit to end the football season for the Matadors, 28-24. The game was played in the biting Vista cold.

The Matadors, winners of the Grossmont League title, finished the year with an 8-2-1 overall mark, while San Marcos continued in CIF play, advancing to a Saturday night semi-final toughie with Patrick Henry.

Mt. Miguel had a fine first half in rolling to the 24-14 intermission lead. Steve Fleming posted the first two Matador scores in the first quarter on runs of 36 and 41 yards as he finished with 134 yards in 14 carries. John Hulsey booted both PAT's and the Miguel outfit had a quick 14-0 lead.

Bob Snead closed the score to 14-7 with a nine yard touchdown pass reception from quarterback Dick Bivin and a successful PAT boot.

Kicker John Hulsey added three points to the Matador effort with a 17-yard goal in the second chapter, giving the Matadors a 17-7 lead. San Marcos came right back. A touchdown narrowed the score again, 17-14, before Mike Jonses touchdown added what proved to be their final point.

While Mt. Miguel enjoyed a fine offensive effort in the first half, it was all San Marcos in the second half. With their defense holding the Matadors to just two first downs and 52 yards, the Knights frolicked in mounting their 422-yard total offense behind a rushing attack that accounted for 335 yards in 37 ground assaults.

Totems, Spurs to Test Gulls Win-Ability

The red hot San Diego Gulls will try to continue their winning ways tonight against the Seattle Totems at the Sports Arena. Then on Saturday night, the Denver Spurs visit San Diego. Both games start at 8 o'clock.

The Gulls recently completed their most successful road trip of the young season. They opened the trip on November 28 dropping a 4-2 decision to the Phoenix Roadrunners. San Diego moved on to Denver November 30 and took a 6-3 victory. Rookie right wing Brian Dick scored two goals, including the game winner. John Miszuk, Mike Bloom, Jim Shires and Willie O'Ree also tallied for the Gulls.

Saturday night the Gulls won their second consecutive road game with a 3-1 win over the Salt Lake Golden Eagles. Jim Stanfield, Bob Courcy and Jim Shires scored the San Diego goals and John Adams stopped 36 Golden Eagle shots in the victory.

Tonight's opponent, the Totems, is a young exciting team led by high-scoring forwards Gene Sobchuck and Paul O'Neil. A familiar name to local fans is rugged defenseman Dave Amadio who will be in the Seattle lineup.

Saturday night the Denver Spurs, led by the WHL penalty minute leader Bob Gassoff, will make a local appearance. Given the name of the "Gassoff Gang", the Spurs lost one of their main villains with the trade that saw left wing Ray Schiltz (over 100 minutes in penalties) sent to the Philadelphia organization. But they are a formidable foe, and are streaking towards a record WHL mark in team penalty minutes.

Tickets are available at all Arena ticket agencies and the Gulls boxoffice.

Gulls general manager Max McNab this week announced the Russian National Hockey Team's invasion here Thursday, January 3.

Last year more than 12,000 fans saw the Russia-Gulls conflict and another big turnout is expected this season.

Ticket prices are the same as during the regular season and are on sale now. All seats are reserved, including those in the general admission area. Price schedule is $5, 4.50, 3.50, 3 and 2.50. Group discounts are available.

Group information is available at 224-3761; Russian game ticket information at 224-4176.

Chargers Last Home Game Sunday

It's the end of the home-game line for the Chargers against the Denver Broncos Sunday.

It gets under way at 1 p.m. at San Diego Stadium with a no-telecast (11,000 seats available) audience who anticipate the Chargers (2-9-1) spoiling the hopes of the Broncos (6-4-2) as the torrid AFC West title race narrows down.

In the Charger-Bronco series, San Diego leads 18-8-1 and has not lost at home to Denver since 1962. In the first 1973 game at Denver, the Broncos spoiled Ron Waller's Charger coaching debut 30-19 although the third-quarter score was 16-16.

Denver is the highest scoring team in the AFC with 295 points. Once a doormat, Denver roared through seven weeks without a loss before tumbling to Dallas 22-10 Sunday.

To win its first title, Denver must beat San Diego and Oakland and hope for a Kansas City loss to Oakland or San Diego. That puts the Chargers in the cat-bird seat as the spoilers.

Here is the schedule of the contenders for the two final weeks:

Oakland (7-4-1) at home vs. Kansas City Saturday (national TV) and Denver Dec. 16.

Kansas City (6-4-2) vs. Oakland and San Diego at home, Dec. 16.

Denver (6-4-2) at San Diego and Oakland.

Last week San Diego lost to the New England Patriots 30-14 before 58-150. Ahead 14-3 in the second quarter, the Chargers were jolted by a 92-yard touchdown kick return by Mack Herron.

The Chargers end their season against the Kansas City Chiefs at Arrowhead Stadium December 16.

The clinic is open to all girls and women living in San Diego or Imperial Counties. There is no admission charge and no pre-registration is necessary.

Taxes, Taxes, Taxes

Records were shattered at the State Board of Equalization recently when a total in excess of $88 million in sales tax payments was processed and deposited during the normal 8-hour work day. Board Member John W. Lynch reports that this is the highest single weekday total deposited in the 94-year history of the Board.

By 1980 some 80 per cent of the young adults will be living in apartments, according to USDA home eonomists.

Routes 125, 94, To Be 'Groovy'

A traffic safety measure is scheduled for portions of four freeways in San Diego County, according to bids called by the California Department of Transportation.

Wet weather driving hazards will be minimized by grooving the pavement of Interstate Routes 5 and 8 and State Routes 94 and 125, to provide better traction between vehicle tires and pavement, and also provide "troughs" for runoff of rainwater, thereby preventing hydroplaning and skidding.

Those freeway sections affected are the northbound and southbound lanes of Interstate 5 between Park Boulevard in San Diego and a point nearly a mile south of Palomar Airport Road near Carlsbad; the westbound lanes of Interstate 8 from just west of Fuerte dr. to just east of Grossmont blvd., Pedestrian Overcrossing in and near El Cajon; the eastbound lanes of Route 94 from just west of 28th st. to just east of 32nd st., and also from just west of 47th st. to just east of Enclid ave. in San Diego; and northbound lanes of Route 125 from Route 94 to just north of Mariposa st. in La Mesa.

Bids will be opened January 10, 1974, in Los Angeles. Approximately $201,00 is available for the project.

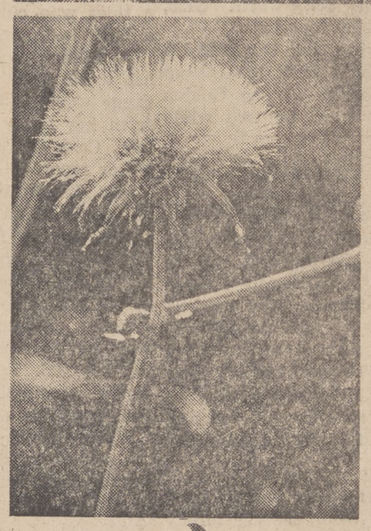
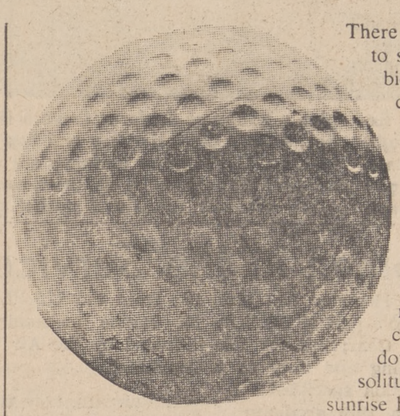
There is a lot of living at Rancho San Diego

...and it all starts at Sweetwater Village/West



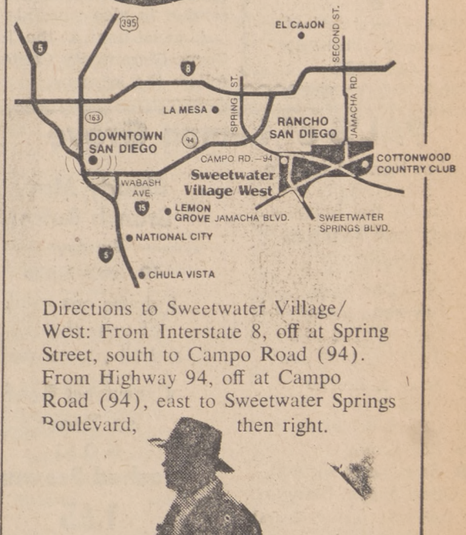


There are mountains to climb . . . meadows to stroll . . . paths to explore on foot or by bicycle . . . views to fill your eyes . . . golf courses to challenge . . . hillsides on which to picnic . . . horse trails to canter . . . all within the "new town" concept of RANCHO SAN DIEGO. This is the different way of life, the unique family freedom, that is now under way in the open countryside of East County. Here in Sweetwater Village/West at RANCHO SAN DIEGO is the first neighborhood of this totally-planned community, located only 12 miles from downtown San Diego. It can be your place of easy solitude, to let your mind unwind in the early sunrise hour or the quiet of evening dusk. RANCHO SAN DIEGO provides the restfulness of open space where your thoughts can quietly meander while you gaze across rolling hills to the mountain background. Here is a lot of living – close to the economic and cultural advantages of urban activity – but removed from the frantic, hemmed-in feeling of the ordinary housing development. RANCHO SAN DIEGO is the place where you can find out what living is all about.

Sweetwater Village/West already has a landscaped park – another will open in 1974 – with a large, heated swimming pool, recreation-meeting building, children's play area, all-purpose court, barbeques and picnic tables, as will the other neighborhoods. There will also be convenience shopping, school sites are designed and RANCHO SAN DIEGO is the site of Grossmont College's second campus, scheduled to be opened in 1977.

Cottonwood Country Club, a part of RANCHO SAN DIEGO, has two championship calibre 18-hole courses which are generally regarded as among the finest in the county.

The open countryside is ideal for horseback riding and other outdoor recreation. An equestrian center for horse boarding and care is planned.



Directions to Sweetwater Village/West: From Interstate 8, off at Spring Street, south to Campo Road (94). From Highway 94, off at Campo Road (94), east to Sweetwater Springs Boulevard, then right.

Prices range from $36,500 to $43,750 for the new Braewood Homes, situated on 8,000 square foot view lots.

The new Braewood Homes are available in 3 and 4 bedroom plans with three different floor plans and choice of 15 exterior elevations, offering up to 1741 square feet of living space and contemporary, ranch and traditional architectural stylings. VA, FHA and conventional financing are available. Furnished models now open. Phone 462-5940.

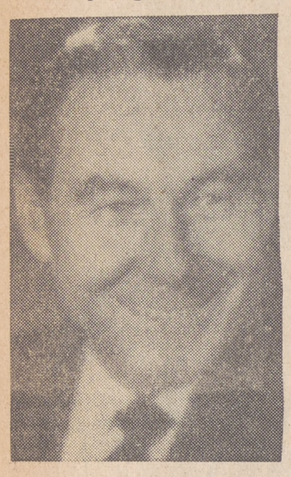
EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

You can stretch out at RANCHO SAN DIEGO because neighborhoods will be carefully interwoven into the open spaces. In fact, about 40 per cent of the approximately 5,000 acres will be retained for active recreational use and environmental preservation.

2,000 Saints Plan Weekend At Spring Valley Conference

Elder Robert L. Simpson, an Assistant to the Council of Twelve of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will speak at the San Diego South Stake Conference Saturday and Sunday in Spring Valley.

Participating in the conference will be the 2,000 members of the church in the three Lemon Grove and Spring Valley congregations, Bishop Grant Seely said.



Elder R. L. Simpson

The Conference session will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. in the Stake Center, 8472 Blossom ln., Spring Valley. Stake President D. Keith Myres, welcomes all visitors.

Elder Simpson, a member of the Presiding Bishopric from 1961 to April 6, 1972, when he was named an Assistant to the Council of the Twelve, is in charge of the Social Services of the Church. Former president of the New Zealand Mission, Elder Simpson was chief supervisor of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's accounting office in Southern California.

The visiting Church authority will present a new film entitled "Meet the Mormons" which shows church members in typical activities worldwide. The spokesman is expected to enlarge on the theme of what church teachings mean to those who accept and practice them, and the reasons for the unusual worldwide growth of the church.

A New York Times article of April 15, 1973, has cited the "Mormon" Church as one of the few major churches which continues to show substantial gain. Its 2.9 per cent increase in the United States to 2,133,172 members in 1970, makes it the fastest growing church among those with over a million members. Worldwide membership of the Church now stands at 3,229,790.

With a growth rate outside the U.S. since 1960 of 250 per cent, compared to the 50 per cent growth rate in the U.S., the Church has more than 17,000 missionaries serving in 107 missions and 626 stakes worldwide. Church membership is expected to reach 7,700,000 by 1985.

Burglars Hit Miller Dairy

Burglars last week robbed the Miller Dairy, 7953 Mt. Vernon, Lemon Grove, of two cases of butter, 45 dozen eggs and an unknown quantity of milk, according to a report filed with the Sheriff's Station.

The daring thieves worked in a lighted area at the front of the dairy while workers were preparing to milk the cows during the first run of the day.

Owner Pete Miller said he heard a car drive in about 2:30 a.m., but assumed it was one of his hands coming to work, and turned over to go back to sleep. Some of the workers heard a crash when the burglars broke in, but assumed it was an employee they saw pitching hay, he added.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

Apparently the "Broadway Improvement Project" will be completed within a few days, and therefore, I for one, as a merchant in the area, wish to urgently suggest that all employers and employees working on Broadway, and affected by fewer parking spaces for customers by the "improvement" realize that we must all park our cars on back or side streets in order to provide adequate parking for our customers.

It could very well endanger our jobs and livelihood if we do not take this forward step immediately to show our customers that we care.

Thanks for your past and future active interest in Lemon Grove.

Flora P. Sevick, of 3219 San Carlos, Spring Valley, a secretary for Christ Church Unity of San Diego, reported the theft of $150 cash in donations she had brought home for safekeeping. The theft, she reported, had apparently happened while she was at work at the church.

Leo G. Straight, of 3168 Fair Oaks ln., Jamul, told investigators he had not reported a November 16 theft of his clothes dryer until the thief telephoned him Friday night and told him "I'm coming back for the washer." In the dryer, Straight reported, were eight pairs of slacks and eight shirts belonging to his two sons. The dryer was taken while he was at work, he added.

Barbra Marie Volk, Box 72, Jamul, came home at 9 p.m. last Tuesday to find her color television set, worth $469, stolen, she reported.

Plumbing tools worth $1,032 were stolen from his pickup truck parked at the Golden Bowl in Casa de Oro while he and his wife were bowling, Fred S. Pierce, 2775 Highlands, Spring Valley, told deputies.

Another daylight effort was recorded Saturday while he was away, James C. Brown, of 627 Pecos, Spring Valley, reported, with the thieves taking $45 in money and jewelry.

Elizabeth J. Dorsey was moving from 9765 St. George, Spring Valley, between November 22 and November 30, and while she was so engaged, burglars managed to ripoff $430 worth in a television set, an adding machine, a sewing machine, car parts and bicycles, Mrs. Dorsey reported.

Between November 25 and November 30, Atonement Lutheran Church, 3345 Sweetwater Springs rd., Spring Valley lost an amplifier and microphone worth $87, it was reported.

And finally, Helen R. Slusher, Star Route, Box 102, Fair Oaks, Spring Valley, told deputies $50 was stolen from her piggy bank. She had not checked the bank in two weeks she said.

Mrs. Lillian H. Croonquist, of Monte Vista Lodge, 2211 Massachusetts, Lemon Grove, told deputies that while she and her husband were at dinner in the lodge dining room, someone entered their apartment and ransacked her purse, stealing $25. Grocer Beaten After Beer Sale Refusal

Because he refused to sell a can of beer to a teenager, market operator George Ghanem, 59, whose business is located at 1827 Englewood, Lemon Grove, was beaten about the head with a belt buckle, reports to the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station said.

The incident occurred Saturday about noon, when Ghanem reportedly refused service to Richard A. Leighton, 18, of 8854 Noeline ave., Spring Valley. Deputies said Leighton allegedly pulled off his belt and beat the grocer on the head, inflicting a three-inch cut in the scalp.

Leighton was arrested 30 minutes after the incident by a deputy who stopped his car at the intersection of Glenco and Canton, the report said.

Ghanem told deputies he and his wife were becoming "afraid" of their youthful clientele, according to the report.

Four More Tiger Cubs Born at Zoo

Four more rare Siberian tiger cubs—the seventh litter born at the San Diego Zoo over the last 15 months—were introduced to refurbished quarters in the Children's Zoo nursery last week.

The cubs were born to Seja; but as was the case with Sejas' three earlier litters, the female tiger proved unable to care for her offspring. The cubs were brought to the Children's Zoo nursery for handrearing.

Repainting of the Children's Zoo nursery, which had already begun when the cubs were born, forced the tigers to be kept in a makeshift behind-the-scenes nursery until last Friday, when they were moved into the glass-windowed nursery on view to visitors.

The cubs bring the number of Siberian tigers born at the Zoo since last August to 20. Fifteen of the cubs have survived. Two of the young tigers have been sold to the Toledo Zoo, leaving 13 cubs of various ages at the San Diego Zoo.

It's Chess Time At Grossmont

Chess, both amateur and profesional, will occupy devotees of the game this weekend at Grossmont College when a two-day college tournament is coupled with the appearance Saturday of Chessmaster Jude F. Acers.

Acers, a "super chess nut", will present a lecture and exhibition at 1 p.m. in the Student Center. Acers, who has played both Fisher and Spassky, invites competition from chess players as he presents a simultaneous exhibition against all comers. Last April, he played 117 opponents simultaneously in 13 hours, 41 minutes.

Chess players who wish to challenge Acers should bring their own Staunton pattern sets as well as their own boards and men.

Prior to Acer's appearance, the Second Annual Grossmont College open chess tournament will begin at 8 a.m., and continue Sunday at 8:30, 10:30 and 1 p.m. Rated players will compete for a first prize of $25, while non-rated will go after a $15 top prize. READING TUTOR—Mrs. Juanita Parras instructs her son, Mike, 14, an eighth grader at Lemon Grove Junior High, in reading skills as part of a pilot program at the school to involve parents in remedial reading. Mrs. Parras, who lives at 7478 Central ave., is one of several parents involved in the project. She has another son enrolled in the junior high.

SDS Tutoring Program Benefits Youngsters In LG Junior High

Lemon Grove youngsters are benefitting from a tutoring program sponsored by San Diego State University.

Two of the several projects are being conducted at Lemon Grove Junior High school.

One of the two is a one-to-one reading improvement project. The other is a work-for-pay job bank for junior high school youngsters.

These projects, in addition to proving invaluable to the youngsters, are proving equally valuable as work experience internships to State College students seeking a masters degree in Social Work.

Two of eleven such interns who are assigned to various elementary schools in Lemon Grove in addition to the two junior high schools, are involved in programs that proved successful last year.

Mrs. Norrie West, for examplie, co-ordinates a reading project. "We encourage parents who have youngsters in school, but not necessarily in the class, to come to school and tutor youngsters with reading problems," she said. Youngsters getting individual tutoring have shown improvement far beyond their previous records, it has been shown.

It also brings parents involved in the project into classroom situations and they become aware of school-room operation—often for the first time, Mrs. West noted.

Bob Boardman, also doing graduate work for his masters, co-ordinates the school's job bank program.

"Last year the job program worked out very well," said school principal Louis Poluzzi. "Some of the youngsters with problems seemed to mature considerably and became more interested in school work as a result of having jobs," he said.

Boardman carefully supervises the program but it is the public that makes it tick. A business firm, as one example, agreed to be centering place for telephone calls from those who want to hire one of these energetic youngsters. The firm is Dutch Cleaners. A person needing a youngster to come to work calls the firm at 466-4145. The girl at Dutch Cleaners passes the request on to Boardman at school. He fans through the records of job applicants. These abilities include pet care, baby sitting, yard work, house work, gift wrapping, car washing and the like. The job-seeker phones the would-be employer and negotiates the arrangements. In all cases the pay is $1 an hour but it should be noted that the youngsters are junior high school age and while they work energetically, they can work only within their capabilities.

The reading class is no less important than the job bank. "It's the youngsters' last chance to get reading help," she said. "If they can't read by high school they have problems from then on. Poor readers are often labeled 'failures' although there is no valid reason for it happening. Kids improve so much in the personal attention reading situation that it usually turns poor-performers around."

In Mrs. West's classes, several mothers have already volunteered but more are needed. In other schools where the parent-reading aides programs have been instituted, programs have become self-perpetuating, she said.

"We expect this to be the case in Lemon Grove, too," she said. "We plan to encourage senior citizens to take part in the reading program next semester," she said.

Mrs. West is the wife of Norrie West, the public relations firm operator who handles the Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf tournament each year. They have a 17-year old daughter.

Boardman will be a professional school social worker when he gets his masters and serve "hopefully in San Diego County."

In Grossmont District

Community Classroom; Alive and Well

The concept of the Community Classroom, once a gleam in most educator's eye, is now a reality in the Regional Occupational Program, local high school authorities say.

The program is particularly effective in the Grossmont High School Distriot but is being tried in other parts of San Diego County, too.

In the local District anyone of high school age or over, regardless of education, is eligible.

Students are given jobs by local firms in the field of the student's choice. Trainees, generally, are not paid. Neither are the firms giving the training.

At present, more than 1,000 trainees are getting on-the-job training from 23 local firms, according to Larry Anderson, spokesman for the Grossmont District. By semester's end, 2,400 students will have been given such training, he said.

Lechtick is Co-ordinator

R.O.P. wasn't trying to experiment with the community classroom concept when it first began placing students in local basinesses, according to Morrie Lechtick, R.O.P. Co-ordinator.

"We place students in commercial enterprises to provide realistic learning experiences and give them a relevant job-oriented curriculum," he said.

The result is making use of the resources of the community for learning experiences, rather than having to purchase expensive equipment and build new facilities for students. "Why duplicate expensive training facilities if they already exist in the community?" asked Lechtick.

R.O.P. classes are shopping centers, banks, auto repair shops, restaurants, airports, and industries. Recently, the R.O.P. arranged a cooperative agreement with local Navy commands for several new courses, using Navy training facilities and instructors on a time available basis, to teach students civilian skills. Some of these courses are a job skill training "residency" school, air conditioning and refrigeration, diesel engine mechanics, and keypunch training.

In such courses the student works side-by-side with a regular employee and learns from his fellow - workers and the supervisor. There is often some classroom work, too, and the instructor outlines the experiences the student is to have.

Industrial Credentials

In many cases the instructor is himself a person from the industry. In order to make this work, the R.O.P. has developed a method of credentialling people from the industry. Lechtick says, "Such staffing increases the likelihood that acquired skills will be responsive to job needs."

The system works, according to Lechtick, "Because follow-up studies show that most R.O.P. students obtain jobs sooner than other students."

The Regional Occupational Program is open to any adult of employable age, and is a cooperative effort between the County and local school districts. Many people enter the program to learn a new skill in order to change jobs or in order to upgrade their skills for job advancement. Others take the courses to learn job entry level skills in order to find work.

Lechtick says that the R.O.P. big story "is the benefit to the taxpayer.

"These community resources are used at no cost to R.O.P. or at a nominal cost to defray the extra cost to the business hosting the program," Lechtick said.

PATIENCE—With the reminder that Beauty is Everywhere on the classroom wall behind her, teacher's aide Judy Ehrenfried instructs Cynthia Anderson, 5, of Spring Valley, in basic learning procedures in a deaf-blind class at Spring Valley Elementary School. When Cynthia was first enrolled, she could neither walk nor crawl.

Deaf-Blind Classes Held At SV Elementary School

The only class of its kind in the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area meets daily at Spring Valley Elementary School, to teach self-sufficiency to children who are both deaf and blind and have been so since birth.

The classroom is a scene of patience. Only three children are in each session, of which there are three. Each session provides a teacher and a teacher's aide, to train the youngsters who have, in some instances, been virtually helpless most of their very young lives.

"We take children early," said Dick Bissell, coordinator of special education for the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District. Youngsters from 4 to 11 years are currently enrolled in the special classes, although training may continue to age 14 years, nine months, Bissell said.

"We hope that Grossmont Union High School District will implement classes next year for those too old to continue with us," he said.

In one corner of the room, an 11-year-old boy was learning to brush his teeth with an electric toothbrush. Patiently, the teacher showed him how to clean his teeth, but from the grimacing twist away from the brush, it was plain to see the youngster was not enjoying the process.

"We get some children who cannot walk, some who cannot even crawl," Bissell said. "One child came to us at five years old who had a bald spot, from lying on her back in a crib all her life, amusing herself — if you can call it that — by passing her hand back and forth in front of her eyes." Here he demonstrated a feeble hand motion in front of his face.

The children live at home, Bissell said, and are bussed to and from school daily. Most of them cannot talk, but are taught basic sign language to indicate their needs.

Most of the children are born the way they are because, during pregnancy, the mother suffered an attack of rubella, Bissell revealed. Each year, an annual review board checks the progress of the youngsters — not only those few in the deaf-blind classes, but also those who are trainable mentally retarded, educable mentally retarded, hearing handicapped, have learning disabilities or are aphasia handicapped.

"We have 450 children in the special education program," Bissell revealed. "Our goal is to get all of them—except the deaf-blind — back into the classroom.

"The program is funded from the state," he added, "so taxpayers need not worry that their tax dollars are being spent on an expensive program locally."

Aside from the classes at Spring Valley Elementary, there is only one other in San Diego County, Bissell concluded.

in a surprisingly short time. He veered left and passed at an estimated 65 miles an hour.

Apparently, it makes no diffeence to the foreign compacts at what speed other cars are going. They cut too sharply at 50 miles an hour as they do at 65

The two-lane section of 94 was busy. Three fellows in a pickup truck must have been in a hurry. They tailgated 50 MPH but there was no place for 50MPH to go—except off the road. More probably the trio wanted 50MPH to go faster. At Grossmont Summit the road opens to four lanes. The pickup pulled alongside 50MPH and made gestures that meant "pull off the road and we'll fight it out." 50MPH wasn't mad enough to fight the guy extending the invitation—much less all three!

A lady in a hardtop, who had probably also been held up by the 50 MPH vehicle, sensing a driver of weak character, pulled alongside long enough to question his parentage. She may not know it but her car needs new rings. A pall of smoke from her exhaust when she raced away in anger could only come from worn down rings on her pistons.

On the return trip it was more of the same. A man in an expensive car gave 50MPH a nasty look and shook his head in disbelief that anyone would go only 50 miles an hour on this freeway.

In the two-lane section a pretty girl in a van honked her horn. There was nowhere to go except the faster lane. She tailgated until 50MPH flashed for a right turn at Grove st. Then a low-slung sports car driven by a bearded youth came across two or more lanes cutting closely in front of the prow of 50MPH at about 70 miles an hour, zipping up the off-ramp incline.

The experiment lasted 17 minutes. It angered seven or more motorists unaccustomed to less than 65 miles an hour speed.

When the maximum speed limit is ordered by law, the President in his wisdom will certainly make it 49 or 51 miles an hour.

50 miles an hour has an irritating quality which creates an anger usually reserved for the neighborhood dog-catcher.

Anxious Reader:

There was quite a flap several weeks ago about Navy brass instructing their chauffuers to leave the car's motor and air conditioner running while the officer was having lunch. He could then return to a cool vehicle—but what a waste of fuel! That little nicety has now been overcome.

A major concern still exists. It is the busing program. They're still going at that full tilt. Many authorities say the program is not useful.

Enough fuel could be saved by eliminating ethnic buses to let service stations reopen on Sunday.

Seniors Eligible For Soroptomist Award

Senior students at Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista High Schools are eligible to enter competition for the annual $100 Youth Citizenship award presented by the Lemon Grove - Spring Valley Soroptimist Club.

Applications must be returned to school counselors no later than December 18, so they may be reviewed by the judges, who are Robert W. Knowlton, Lemon Grove attorney; Edward Fleming, manager of the Spring Valley branch of La Jolla Federal Savings and Loan, and Kenneth E. McLaren, principal of a San Diego elementary school.

Date of the presentation will be announced later, and students are reminded to secure applications from the senior counsellors at both schools.

The prize is not a scholarship, but an award of merit, said Rosarie Graham, publicity chairman of the event. It is presented in recognition of outstanding youths who have demonstrated good citizenship throughout their high school years by participation in service to the home, school and community.

Other criteria include demonstration of ability to be leaders of self control and dignity, execution of responsibilities with honesty, loyalty and punctuality and pursuit of selected endeavors with purpose, sincerity and integrity.

Tel-Med Adds 42 New Tapes

With the recent addition of 42 new tapes, Tel-Med, the County Medical Society's telephone tape library, is diagnosed as very healthy, according to Dr. William Adams, society president.

Dr. Adams said he bases his diagnosis on 125,000 calls since its opening in April, a total of 167 English tapes, and a growing Spanish language Tel-Med program—including promotion and usage in Tijuana.

Park Vote Hearing Set Dec. 19 By Supervisors

A public hearing December 19, to be conducted before the San Diego County Board of Supervisors, will determine if an annexation election shall be scheduled for March of 1974 to join Encanto to County Service Area Number 52, Lemon Grove.

Supervisors last week set the election machinery in motion following hearings before and recommendation by the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO).

LAFCO, in response to a plea from the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, agreed to separate three tax rate proposals to appear on the ballot. The three include setting a tax rate for the beautification of Broadway, recently renovated, and rates for both a proposed six acre park in Lemon Grove and an 18 acre park in Broadway Heights, Encanto. Voters will decide on annexation of 290 acres in that area.

Helen Myers, chamber secretary who appeared at a LAFCO meeting Nov. 5 to protest all-inclusive tax rates on the ballot, said, when informed of the agency's action:

"That is just exactly what we were looking for."

Peter Detweiler, LAFCO administrative assistant, said that separation of the tax rates will mean that Encanto residents cannot outvote Lemon Grove residents in the election. "If the third proposal should win while the others fail, Encanto would not be approved," Detweiler said. This, he indicated, is to forestall a heavy vote on the 18 acre park which could possibly shut out approval of Lemon Grove's six acre recreational area.

The 290 acres is located southeast of Highway 94 near MacArthur drive and west of the city limits, but still lies within the City of San Diego.

Earlier, Mrs. Myers said, LAFCO officials had told her the tax rates could not be put on the ballot separately. An opinion from the county counsel apparently changed LAFCO's mind.

Population of the Encanto area is 2,000 compared to between 22,000 and 26,000 in County Service Area Number 52. Assessed valuation of Broadway Heights is $2,100,000, as compared to $36,000,000 for the service area.

A grant of $41,000 is due to Lemon Grove for its six acre park, provided voters approve the plan. The grant will come from Housing and Urban Development.

Masseuse Charged

Sheriff's vice officers last week arrested Linda Helen Childs, 25, at Valley No. 1 Massage Parlor in Casa de Oro, and charged her with solicitation of prostitution, according to records at the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Office.

Vice officers alleged Miss Childs offered to "ball" them. She was arrested at 10:30 p.m. last Thursday at the parlor, 9740 Campo rd.

Fire District Board Calls Special Meet

Since the second regular December meeting of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District would fall on New Year's Eve, directors voted to call a special session for Thursday, December 27 at 7 p.m. at the fire station.

The action was taken at last week's meeting, during which the board accepted a bid from Village Chevrolet for replacement of a half-ton motor van. Only three firms responded to the district's call for bids, including Mira Mesa Dodge and University Ford, as well as Village Chevrolet. Cost of the replacement vehicle was listed at $3,129.28.

Reorganization of the board, following the November 6 election, will be undertaken at the next regular meeting, December 10.
